In a Presbyterian Church, only believing Christian parents may present their child for Baptism. Infant Baptism is a sign of God's faithfulness to us. It is not a sign of saving faith on the part of the child. Each child must come to his or her own decision of faith in Jesus Christ in order to be a true Christian.

In a Presbyterian Church, we do not use "God-parents"; the congregation fulfils that role. You are encouraged, however, to invite your friends and relatives to be with us at the Baptism Service
